STAMPA, FRANCE, Nov. 25.—The most remarkable escape from death yet recorded in the annals of aviation occurred here today when the motor in the airplane of Aviator Rost suddenly tumbled when "his machine" was 1,500 feet in the air. The aviator plunged earthward with terrific speed, turning over and over in the air. In spite of the sickening rapidity of the drop and the whirling revolutions, Rost, who was strapped to his seat, retained self-control.

After "floating" the loop twenty times, the aviator got the airplane under control and volplaned the balance of the distance to safety. Rost was trying for an altitude record.

SAVED FROM FLAMES BY PASSERBY

Imperiled Family Refused by Stranger Who Refuses to Reveal His Name.

An unknown man who refused to give his name on the ground that he didn't want "any notoriety" saved Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hand from death Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock, when their home at No. 688 Capitol avenue was destroyed by fire. They fled into the street in their night clothing just as the roof crumbled into the bedroom where they had been sleeping.

The fire is supposed to have caught from the furnace in the basement of the house, and spread rapidly. The unknown hero passed the street on his way to work, his house was enveloped in flames. He pounded on the doors and windows with his fists and tried to open a window, but was unable to release the catch. His persistent hammering on the doors and the crackle and roar of the flames finally woke Mr. Hand, who found the flames about at his head.

The safe had been "blown"—nearly, but inside it, protected by a special lock, was $6,000 in money and $2,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables. The money and the valuables were safe—so safe that the company itself couldn't open the door. COLEY NOT TO BE TRIED THIS YEAR

Judge Hill Refuses to Take Up Negro's Case Until After the Final Frank Decision.

The trial of Jim Conley, sensational witness and half-confessed accessory after the fact in the trial of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, was postponed by Judge Ben Hill in the Criminal Court Tuesday until after the Frank case is disposed of. So thinking, the court will not take the case.

"I shall not take up this case now or permit it to be called. The court is of the opinion that this case should not be taken up until the case against the principal perpetrator of the crime is disposed of. So thinking, the court will not take the case."

The courts dictum, of course, is final. It leaves the Conley trial day as problematical as ever. If the Supreme Court should deny Frank a new trial in December, the hearing being set for the 15th, it is a question whether the negro would be tried at the January term, because an appeal to the United States Supreme Court has been talked of.

Might Be Delayed Longer.

If, on the other hand, Frank should get a new trial, Conley's trial is more problematical than ever, for, according to Judge Hill's announcement, it would have to wait on the outcome of Frank's second trial.

W. M. Smith, the negro's lawyer, was in court with two petitions urging immediate trial when Solicitor General called the case to the attention of the court.

Solicitor General merely made reference to the fact that Conley had been brought over to the courthouse for trial several times, that the prisoner's counsel was in court ready for trial, and put it up to the court what action should be taken.

Smith, after the court had announced his decision, submitted his petition asking for trial on the charge of felony of manslaughter.

Petitions Admitted to Minutes.

"You have the right to file your petition," said Judge Hill, "and they will be put in the minutes."

That about concluded the day's proceedings, and Conley was taken back to the cell he has occupied in the Tower since he told his grown sons of the trial of Frank, under the striding fire of Luther Rosser and Reuben Arnold. He did not look as if the ordeal was affecting him very much, in spite of all sorts of reports that he is growing thin and nervous.

His lawyer expressed himself as pleasantly content with the course things had taken and hoped that his client would be brought to trial in January.

Pleas of Friends Win Court's Mercy

WARRANTS FOR MOB

Young Woman and Son Driven From Beds at Midnight by Gang.

STATESBORO, Nov. 25.—The entire community of Statesboro, near here, is eagerly awaiting developments following the unsuccessful whipping of Mrs. M. J. Holleran, a widow, and her son, night before last by a party of seven masked men, for the arrest of whom Mrs. Holleran has asked and obtained warrants charging assault and battery.

Mrs. Holleran, an attractive young woman, came to Statesboro yesterday, and awaiting personally in the office of the warrant deputy, demanded redress for her wrongs. She said that at 1 o'clock the night before seven masked men came to her home, entered it, took her and her son from their beds and beat them unmercifully.

"I felted unmercifulness," Mrs. Holleran said, "and they became alarmed. They removed their masks and I recognized them all. Then they poured bucketsful of water over me to revive me."

After the whipping the men departed, and Mrs. Holleran, dressed hurriedly, followed the men to the town and telephoned to the Sheriff. Later in the day she came to Statesboro for the warrants.

Mrs. Holleran has been employed as clerk in a grocery store for several months. Her version of the affair is the only one heard thus far and she denies emphatically having given any occasion for the treatment accorded her.

The warrants are expected to be served to-day. The affair has caused a sensation, and threatening talk was freely circulated to-day.

Trouble Is Renewed In Paint Creek War

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Nov. 25.—Details reached here this morning of the shooting up of Dry Branch, in the Paint Creek coal region, during the progress of which rioters ordered lights extinguished in all stores, postoffice and other public buildings and their orders met with strict compliance. One man was seriously wounded. At another place a fusillade of rocks and empty bottles were thrown at a passing train shattering the windows.

It is charged the malcontents of that section, who thrived during the mine riots have the police "owed."

Pay Your Dollar, and Be Grateful for Chance to Make Some Child Happy.

You tired business men who are always complaining of the monotony of the grind!

Here's your one best chance!

There's going to be a tango tea right down in your midst.

Of course you won't have a chance with any of those young fellows who will be there. But the pretty girls will all smile at you as you sit in the corner, watching the tango and spinning tea. And an Atlanta girl's smile is worth the price of admission.

Which to it.

It may bring back a time not so long ago when another pretty girl smiled at you and made you want you are today—a tired business man, perhaps, but also a successful one. Then you won't think your life such a grind after all.

Takes Place Next Monday.

This fountain of youth is going to be in the ballroom of the Piedmont Hotel, which is just a step from your office.

The date is December 1, the music will start at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and will swing right on through until 7.

You can hear the latest tunes; see all the society ladies and beaux dance the latest innovations in the tango, chachacha, and get a thorough rejuvenation all for one dollar.

That is not all. The dollar you give will go into the Empty Stocking Fund which will provide a Merry Christmas for the thousands of poor families in Atlanta.

Will Be Informal Affair.

This is why you are coming to the Empty Stocking Fund. It doesn't matter whether you can stay or not, you are going to bring your dollar in there and add it over to the committee of business men who will be expecting you. But when you get there you won't leave.

DON'T DRRESS UP. It is going to be a merry little informal party. And it is going to help make a thousand other merry little parties in the homes of the poor when Christmas comes.

'OBEY' NOT IN BRIDE'S WEDDING VOWS

Miss Wilkes Takes Advantage of "New Freedom"—Clear Skies Greet Marriage Party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Clear skies arching a perfect Indian summer morning, pleasantly warm and with scarcely a breath of wind, favored the wedding day of Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second daughter of the President, and Francis Bowes Sayre. It was another instance of the proverbial Wilson fortune, bringing smiles to the faces of the invite guests at the ceremony, and crowning the event for the happy couple with the best of omens.

Up early to observe the signs of the heavens, nearly a hundred policemen—the pick of the metropolitan force—prepared to hold in check the surging crowds that began with the breakfast hour to gather about the White House grounds. Uniforms were never so neat, brass buttons never shone so resplendently as upon this occasion of marriage festival. Everywhere the crowds were good natured, chaffing the disappointed who sought entrance to the Executive Mansion, and frankly envying those who passed in by special right of invitation or errand.

Up at the Capitol the House of Representatives failed for once to meet. It had adjourned for the day out of compliment to the President's family. The Supreme Court justices were similarly absent from their chambers.

Only the Senate, burdened with its responsibilities for the currency legislation, went on with its work, noting the absence of a few members who had accepted invitations to the great function.

"New Freedom" for Bride.

That Miss Wilson would share the advantage of the "new freedom" in her marriage and would not promise to "obey" was revealed from the officiating clergyman, the Rev. Selvester W. Beach, when he announced the ceremony to be used the modern wording of the service from the Presbyterian book of common worship it follows.

Jessie, wilt thou have this man to be thy husband, and with thou pledge thy faith to him in all love and honor, in all duty and service, in all faith and tenderness, to live with him and cherish him, according to the ordinance of God, in the holy bond of matrimony?

I will.

And further.

I Jesus, take thee, Francis, to be my wedded husband, and I do promise and covenant, before God and these witnesses, to be thy loving and faithful wife, in plenty and in want, in joy and sorrow, in sickness and in health, as long as we both shall live.

Gifts from distant parts of the world continued to arrive during the day, among the notable late arrivals being one from the President of Guatemala, to the effect that the wedding should not be considered a national affair. Diplomats had sent their congratulations after the fashion of the olden times.

Gift From Guatemala President.

The Guatemalan President's present is a wrought silver center piece in a dozen of American heavy roses. Senior Don Joaquin Mendez, a friend of the President, presented it with a rare vase, the gift of himself and Senora Mendez.

So far the wedding story does not seem to be a secret. Whether the couple would go to Florida or to Canada, to some secluded spot in Virginia or to New York was known, and the wedding story was known.

Rollerson, a widow, and her son, night before last by a party of seven masked men, for the arrest of whom Mrs. Rollerson has asked and obtained warrants charging assault and battery.

Mrs. Rollerson, an attractive young woman, came to Statesboro yesterday, and, weeping passionately, she said that at 1 o'clock the night before seven masked men came to her home, bound her and her son from their beds and beat them unmercifully.

THANKSGIVING

THE spirit of Thy heart, oh, God, is Liberty.
Today, as evermore, we thank Thee for this glory:
And from the south where her shaped feet have trod,
Surges our story
In frostless breath November's sky,
Like incense hourly.

Today our thanks to Heaven above ascend through Winter's chill-humored air.
Divided millions join today—there rises all our nation's prayer:
For all we are and long to be—for future linked with hope to rise,
To Thee, oh, God, we send today Thanksgiving past November's skies.

We thank Thee, God, because the day must ever follow darkness night:
We thank Thee that our bleeding feet will bear us onward to the light:
Because we ever may try again, because of hope that does not die,
Because of joy the sunshine gives—our thanks today rise to the sky.

The spirit of Thy heart, oh, God, great Liberty
Has taught us how to write a nation-honored story:
Freedom we knew to rise from hampered clod.
For all this glory
Thanksgiving surges from our hearts today
Like incense hourly.

Later in the day she came to Statesboro for the warrants.
Mrs. Rollerson has been employed as a clerk in a store at Metter for several months. Her version of the attack is the only one heard thus far. She is now being emphatically revived and now desires emphatically having given any occasion for the treatment accorded her.

The warrants are expected to be served today. The affair has caused a sensation, and circulating talk was that the masked men were from the south.

PROSPERITY PROVED BY REVENUE

Municipal Treasury Will Have $25,000 Unappropriated Surplus at End of the Year.

Impressive evidence of Atlanta's prosperity is shown by the record increase of more than $18,500,000 in tax returns for 1913 over 1912. It not only is a greater amount than any previous year's increase, but also approximately $2,000,000 the increase anticipated in the final revision of the city budget. With city officials winding up the business of the year the figures show an unappropriated surplus of about $25,000 in Atlanta's income.

A compilation of the figures was completed Tuesday by City Tax Receiver George Beauchamp. The total assessments aggregate $12,227,477, against $10,427,487 in 1912. Of this amount approximately $10,520,000 is made up of real and personal assessments of private citizens and corporations, and $1,600,000 in real and personal assessments of public utility corporations.

The increase in assessments on private property is $16,514,672; $159,228,000 for 1913, and $142,860,325 for 1912.

Public Utilities' Increase.
The increase on public utilities, assessments on which are made by State Comptroller Wright, is approximately $2,000,000. The assessments on the utilities for 1913 were $12,022,159. He has not made a final addition of the assessments for this year, but a conservative estimate is that they will exceed $14,000,000.

Mayor Woodward and the Council anticipated a substantial increase, but the figures have gone beyond their expectations. When the January budget was made, Mayor Woodward presented the committee from following the old custom of appropriating a conservative estimate of the increase. No increased revenue was added to the budget until it was revised in June, and then only the amount actually in sight. When in October it came time to revise the budget again, the Finance Committee attempted to include the total of the increase in revenue. The figures to-day show that they fell by about $2,000, although there were demands for an excess of the amount made available for expenditure.

The city treasury, therefore, is found in a condition never known before. Since the year is so near a close, it is likely the money will be carried over to the new Council to spend.

In fact Tax Receiver George Beauchamp is making every effort to keep the figures secret. He has shown them to Mayor Woodward and a few friends, but only a few of the Councilmen know of the situation.

Tricks to Keep Figures Secret.
Receiver Beauchamp Tuesday refused to give out the official figures. When he completed them Tuesday he locked them in his desk and left the City Hall. He said that Mayor Woodward had advised him to keep them secret for fear members of Council might attempt to appropriate the money for needed improvements.

Mr. Beauchamp, however, is making his last show of authority. A measure passed by the last General Assembly authorizes his office as a separate department and makes of it a division under the State Tax Receiver, J. L. Harrison, C. D. Meador and J. N. Mendenhall.

The phenomenal increase and the assurance from the Tax Assessor that next year also will show a big increase in the city's revenue, is a factor which will be such a heavy demand from the schools and other city departments that the committee will be sorely pressed to loosen the purse strings.

Robbers Blow Safe In High's Store, but Fail to Get $8,000

When Miss Dora Gibbs, cashier for the J. M. High Company, went to the safe in the office on the second floor Tuesday morning, she was startled to see a great pile of bedding on the floor in front of the tall steel box. Then she noticed that the combination had been torn off, and a closer inspection showed the door to have been drilled and otherwise damaged.

The safe had been "blown" nearly but inside it, protected by a special lock, was $6,000 in money and $2,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables. The money and the valuables were safe as safe that the company itself couldn't open the door. The special burglar-proof lock, a patented device, is made to spring as soon as any violent attempt is made on the door, shooting great bolts across the inside and holding the door in place against attacks by dynamite or even electricity.

Miss Gibbs, who was married last November, is the daughter of the late Mr. Gibbs, a prominent citizen.

Standard Oil Again Denies It Is a Trust

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 25.—The Standard Oil Companies of New Jersey, Kentucky and Louisiana are apparently concerned and have no connection in their business relations, according to arguments here in chancery today on a demurrer to an anti-trust suit filed recently by the State of Mississippi.

In this case it is charged that 90 percent of the cotton oil business of the State is controlled by one set of men, and these companies are named in the petition.

Texas Stages Its Own Wilson-Sayre Affair

ORANGE, TEXAS, Nov. 25.—By a strange coincidence Miss Jessie Wilson and Francis Sayre, residents of this town, were married here today. The bride is a farmer's daughter and the groom a merchant.

Invitations were handled in a way typical of President Wilson. Washington residential society, which received great recognition at the hands of Colonel Roosevelt, was almost totally ignored. The reason given for this was the fact that Miss Wilson and the members of her family have not been in Washington long enough to become extensively acquainted. Besides the diplomatic corps, some of the leading members of the Senate and the House, the members of the President's cabinet, the members of the Supreme Court and a few department and bureau heads, almost all of the guests present were personal friends of the Wilson and Sayre families.

Police Closely Guarded.
Every precaution was taken to protect the President's family and the wedding guests. Secret service men were freely scattered throughout the White House and about the grounds of the Executive Mansion.

Every entrance to the White House grounds was guarded by a line of police. Guests on arrival passed through a parallel line of police at the main entrance, and only those having invitations or authority were permitted to enter.

From early morning a crowd had surrounded the White House, standing close to the great iron railings, in the hope of catching a glimpse of Miss Wilson and members of the wedding party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—In the presence of a brilliant assemblage of distinguished guests, Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second daughter of the President, and Francis Bowes Sayre were married in the famous old east room of the White House today.

Miss Wilson, leaning on the arm of her father and attended by her maids, entered the east room from the main apartment of the White House. On a dais erected before the altar near the east window Francis Bowes Sayre, his attendants and the Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Princeton, N. J., awaited the arrival of the bride party.

In almost the very spot where took place the wedding of Miss Nellie Grant and Algonzo Sartoris and Miss Alice Roosevelt and Representative Nicholas Longworth, Miss Wilson became the thirteenth White House bride.

Brilliant Gowns and Uniforms.
The east room presented a magnificent picture, the brilliant gowns of the many fashionably dressed women and uniforms of the diplomats contrasting with the somber black of the frockcoats of the Senators, Representatives and friends and relatives of the Wilson and Sayre families.

Velvet and plush cords roped off the room into sections and formed an aisle along which the bridal party proceeded to the altar. The Marine Band played the wedding march. None of the guests were seated.

ATLANTA'S POOR KIDDIES DEMAND YOUR PRESENCE AT XMAS FUND TANGO TEA

You tired business men who are all weary complaining of the monotony of the year.

Here's your one best chance! There's going to be a tango tea right down in your midst. Of course you won't have a chance with any of these young fellows who will be there. But the pretty girls will all smile at you as you sit in the corner, watching the manager and waiting tea. And an Atlanta girl's smile is worth the price of admission.

Which is it? It may bring back a time not so long ago when another pretty girl smiled at you and made you what you are to-day—a tired business man, perhaps, but also a successful one. Then you won't think your life such a grind after all.

Takes Place Next Monday. This fountain of youth is going to be in the ballroom of the Piedmont Hotel, which is just a step from your office.

The date is December 1; the music will start at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and will swing right on through until 7.

You can hear the latest tunes, see all the society buds and beaux dance the latest innovations in the tango-dance art, and get a thorough rejuvenation all for—

One dollar. And that is not all. The dollar you give will go into the Empty Stocking Fund which will provide a merry Christmas for the thousands of poor children in Atlanta.

Will Be Informal Affair.

That is why you are coming to the Tango Tea. It doesn't matter whether you can stay or not, you are going to bring your dollar up there and hand it over to the committee of business men who will be expecting you. But when you get there you may leave.

DON'T DRESS UP. It is going to be a merry little informal party. And it is going to help make a thousand other merry parties in the homes of the poor when Christmas comes.

Doesn't you see? You are under obligation to come. The most prominent people in Atlanta are going to be there. The Brown Commission is going to be made of ceremonies and chief and shelter to the tangoers. And more of leading society women have endorsed the idea and are working hard and day for its success.

Will Be Done Right.

Here are some of them: Chairman Robert J. Lowry, J. G. Lowry, Henry Jackson, W. A. Spier, Harry Ellis, William D. Ellis, Jr., John Murphy, Edwin P. Ansley, Harry Heman, James A. Kiser, John McCall, W. D. Green, John Hull, Hugh Hixson, George M. Brown, Robert H. Brown, John Moore, Warner Marshall, John A. Jones, Hubert Moore, Donald Ramsay, Charles Sloan, James L. Dickey, Jr., Robert L. Jones, John Kiser, Edwin Johnson, James L. Williams, William Johnson, Forrest Adair, Jr., Hughes Spaulding and Ray Collier. From Fort McPherson will come also Mrs. George and Mrs. B. T. Simmons and Mrs. Jack Hayes.

This thing is going to be done right. The people working for it guarantee much.

And they are working for it because it is an object worthy of their attention.

And that is why you must come. RECOMMEND at 4:30 o'clock. The

MARRIAGE HELD PREVENTIVE OF VAGRANCY

Judge Pottle Rules That Woman With Husband Can Not Be Convicted of Charge.

The Georgia Court of Appeals, via Mr. Justice Pottle, has placed itself in a unique position in the history of the law by ruling that a woman who is married and who is charged with vagrancy cannot be convicted of the charge.

The case on appeal came up from Mitchell County, and was brought by Mrs. Ethel Brown, convicted of vagrancy and sentenced to twelve months in the changing of the county, failing the payment of an alternative $20 fine.

In reversing the court below and remanding the case for retrial, Mr. Justice Pottle, for the court, held: "A married woman whose husband is not shown to be unable to support her cannot be convicted of vagrancy upon proof alone that she is able to work and does not work. And this is true though she and her husband may be living in a state of separation."

"It is unfortunately true that some husbands do not comply with the legal and highly moral obligation imposed upon them to support their wives. It is punishment enough for a woman to escape a man unwilling to support her. If he can and won't the law will control him, and will excuse the woman for not doing that which her husband is bound to perform for her."

"Particularly if he is not to be classed as a vagrant merely because she relies upon compliance by her husband with the obligation imposed upon him by the law."

"Married women are often compelled to supplement the income which the ostensible head of the family can earn, but they do this from stern necessity, and not because the law compels them to do it."

"Sometimes married women support worthless or helpless husbands, but to hold them liable for the support of such husbands would be an unwarrantable burden upon the holy estate of matrimony and make undesirable for the woman a relation into which the law encourages her to enter."

"In the present case the husband is burdened with supporting a family falls upon the husband to return for which the law provides him with the title of 'head of the family.'"

"If he would wear the crown he must bear the burden. Some day all this may be changed, but we are dealing with present law, and sufficient unto the day is the law as it is."

"The undisputed evidence shows that the husband is a married woman, and that she lived with her husband and was dependent upon him for support. This evidence is sufficient to establish the fact that she is not the proper proceeding in the law to support her. This represents the husband and wife or to fix the blame for separation."

"It is enough that the woman is married and the husband is in duty bound to support her. This represents the husband and wife or to fix the blame for separation."

"Judgment reversed."

A Keen Creative Brain

Has value far above money alone because such a brain can win not only money, but—what money often fails to win—SUCCESS.

Brains are built—same as other parts of the body—from the food one eats.

The ordinary diet often lacks certain elements essential to the well balanced nourishment of both body and brain. Especially is this true of white bread flour, which, to make it white, is deprived of valuable mineral salts in the milling process.

Grape-Nuts

made of finest whole wheat and barley, retains the mineral salts (grown in the grain) and other nutritious elements, and thus supplies perfectly what white flour bread lacks.

This lack is often the difference between a weak body and dull, ineffective brains and the strong, keen, creative mind.

Grape-Nuts comes ready to eat direct from package—fresh and clean. Delicious with cream or good milk.

It is a concentrated, easily digested food, and as the cereal part of the usual meal has helped thousands toward a new and successful life.

NEW CURRENCY BILL TO BE PASSED BY JANUARY, HOKE SMITH IS CERTAIN

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—I am fortunate to have found Hoke Smith, the massive Senator from Georgia, in a communicative mood on the currency bill as given himself and as close to Wilson. He said to me:

"Currency legislation is now assured. It should certainly pass by the latter part of January."

The Senate has before it three measures—the bill as passed the House, the House bill with the amendments proposed by the six Democrats of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, and the House bill with the amendments proposed by Senator Hitchcock and the five Republican members of the committee. The entire committee agreed upon the amendments and approved the most important provisions of the House bill. They are:

First—The creation of regional Federal Reserve banks with capital stock subscribed in part by national banks and banks generally.

Second—The concentration in these banks of a large part of the reserves of the stockholder banks and of Government bonds that both may be available for use in business.

Third—A provision for absolute currency by the issue of national treasury notes through the regional banks to be used as currency.

Fourth—The control of the entire system by the Government, through a national board of supervisors.

Prefer More Than Four Banks.

A number of the amendments offered by each division of the Senate committee are valuable, but they are not so essentially different that any one should be deterred from voting for the bill because either prevailed. The House Democratic six insisted upon eight regional banks. The Hitchcock and Republican six insisted upon four. The House bill provided for twelve. I prefer more than four and do not object to twelve.

The opponents of a large number of regional banks insist that a central bank is best, and that the nearer we lay to the central bank the stronger the regional banks the stronger will be the system.

There are many advantages from localizing the regional banks.

The bill as amended by the Democratic six of the committee furnishes ample opportunity to the board of supervisors to strengthen the individual regional banks in time of emergency. The advantage of concentration is overcome by this power in the reserve board, and the advantages regained from local relations growing out of a larger number of regional banks.

Favors Public Stockholding.

Two divisions of the committee separated over placing the stock of part of the stock with the public. I do not regard this as essential. Really would be an advantage to place part of it with the public and part with the banks.

Another difference was over the selection of directors for regional banks. The Democratic six adhered to the House plan of allowing one-third of the directors to be selected by the banks from bank officials, one-third by the banks from business men entirely disconnected with banks and one-third by the Board of Supervisors.

The Hitchcock Republican six with five named by the Board of Supervisors and four by the banks. I can not see that this difference is very important, for the Democratic six give to the Board of Supervisors such a trended power over the local boards that their control of the regional banks would be about the same in one case as in another.

2 Per Cent Bonds.

In one respect the Democratic members of the committee make a valuable change from the House bill and from the action of the Hitchcock and Republican six. It is with reference to the handling of the 2 per cent bonds, which have been used as a basis of national bank circulation.

Instead of calling in these bonds and substituting a new bond and retiring the national bank notes with the substantial notes of circulation the Democratic six propose that the regional banks by degrees take over the 2 per cent bonds now issued by the national banks, cancel the existing national bank notes, the 2 per cent bonds instead of by the national banks, I regard this plan as, in many respects, desirable.

The fundamental principles are now served on and it can be regarded as an assured fact that only a short time will remain before our banking and currency system is greatly improved.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

"It is evident enough," said C. W. Warden, Charles L. Davis today, "that the present hunting season is to be the best and most widely discussed of many years."

"The number of counties the supply of licenses sent out from headquarters has proven to be far short of requirements, and a number of licenses have been delayed in issuing because of the fact that local war-seas did not have the necessary funds. I think there is not a county in the State today, however, that is not able to take care of all demands made upon it."

"The fact, of course, one primary reason why this is such a popular season, and that is that birds are really and truly much more plentiful than formerly. The season has been too dry for very good hunting, so far, but the birds are in the field nevertheless."

The reason why the total number of licenses has so greatly increased over calculation is because so many hunters who thought their hunting was a thing of the past have taken up the sport again with all of their old-time enthusiasm. They know of their own knowledge that conditions are relatively what they were ten years or so ago, and that has made them all over again."

It is noted, too, that the law is being administered most admirably throughout the State, and I assume much of this to the fact that the hunters themselves are doing all they can to make the law a success and a real protection, not only to the birds but to the sport.

The department on the whole is highly gratified at the way the hunting season is opening, and we anticipate nothing but cooperation all the way along the line, so far as enforcing the law is concerned. It is a good law, and the people favor it, because there is not likely to be a very great deal of real trouble in enforcing it in any season."

Adjutant General Joseph VanDine is doing everything in his power to make the military display brilliant.

State. It generally is agreed that this law is a good one, and its success is assured, if only the right sort of men are put on the job of enforcing it in the counties.

The Mason Telegraph, in Monday's issue, sums up the average editorial view entertained by the press of Georgia, when it says: "The law is probably the most important act of the Legislature in a generation. It is a crying need, and will be of incalculable use to the people of the State."

PUTTING ON THE BOARD OF TAX ASSESSORS. And this is a question which is up to the County Commissioners in the 147 Georgia counties. These assessors must be freeholders and shall not receive less than $1 a day while actually at work. This work will not last long. There is no limit to the amount that may be paid. It can be $2 or $3 a day, if it will require that much to get good men. With good and competent men on the board of assessors the law will prove a great blessing. If it is badly managed it will prove a disastrous failure, and a danger for its repeal will come up from all over the State. The possibilities for good and evil in this new law are great.

The conveners of that proposition is immensely dangerous. The law will be a great success or a great failure. It all depends on the kind and character of men selected for its enforcement by the several Boards of County Commissioners. Those selections, if they have opportunity, must be made soon."

The resignation of Judge Thomas A. Parker, of the Worcester Circuit Superior Court, and his probable candidacy for Congress, coupled with the further entry of Senator W. L. Converse, of Lowndes, into the same race.

NEW AID IS PLEDGED FOR 'GO TO CHURCH DAY' PLAN; MINISTERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Enthusiastic over the "Go-to-Church Day" plan of the Georgian, ministers representing various ministerial and religious organizations Tuesday tendered their co-operation and help to the movement.

One of the important bodies to render assistance was the Evangelical Ministers' Association, which will take formal action in respect to the movement at the meeting next Monday in Wesley Memorial Hall.

The Baptist ministers of Atlanta already have heartily endorsed the project and have a meeting Sunday, December 14, as the best day to rally the forces of the city's churches. Methodist ministers returned Tuesday from the North Georgia Conference in Dalton, where the plan received the warm commendation of the delegates gathered there.

The Rev. W. C. Schaefer, Jr., pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Lutheran, announced that the Evangelical Ministers' Association, of which he is chairman, is very much interested in the movement for a record church attendance in Atlanta, and that he will present its plan to the association for formal action at its meeting next Monday.

Sees Aid to Sunday Schools.

The Sunday School Superintendents' Association has done very aggressive work in getting adults out to Sunday school and to church as well, said Mr. Schaefer. "This added stimulus will be of the greatest help to us and to the pastors. The Sunday schools of the city have done a remarkable work in the last few months, probably more efficient work than they ever have done before."

"I anticipate that the effect of this 'Go-to-Church Day' will be reflected in the Sunday schools as well as in the fall in the churches for months to come. I am awaiting the outcome with the greatest interest."

Next week will find practically every denomination in the city formally allied in a whirlwind campaign for the greatest church attendance that Atlanta ever enjoyed. The Presbyterian ministers, at their conference next Monday morning in the First Presbyterian Church, will take definite steps to co-operate in the movement.

The Rev. Linton Johnson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and secretary of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association, said Tuesday that he was very much interested in the project and that he had found a similar interest among the other ministers of the denomination. All agreed he said, that formal endorsement should be given the project and that every minister should see that his own church was crisscrossed on Sunday to the day selected by the churches of the city.

"It is a unique proposition," he said, "I am anxious to see how great the benefits will be. I am confident that the results can not be other than beneficial. The Georgian may count on the glad co-operation of every Presbyterian church in the city."

The Rev. S. R. Bell, pastor of the Park Street Methodist Church, just back from the conference in Dalton, gave the plan his enthusiastic commendation.

"I am anxious to see how great the benefits will be. I am confident that the results can not be other than beneficial. The Georgian may count on the glad co-operation of every Presbyterian church in the city."

churches could not seat over 50 percent of their membership if they should go to church as it shows that they do not expect them.

The attendance at some of the churches includes such a low percentage of the actual members that the figures would be startling. Atlanta, rather than being a church-going city is very lax in this respect, but I believe the plan of the Georgian will afford an admirable remedy. Ministers and their congregations will be spurred to efforts that they have not made before in years. I know the movement will result in a record day for Atlanta."

An Effective Method.

"Go-to-Church Day" is a fine proposition. I wish it might be continued every Sunday in the year. Every legitimate means possible ought to be used to persuade the people to listen to the word of God. I regard this as about as effective a method as could be devised."

The Rev. Charles A. Pile, pastor of St. Philip's Cathedral, said that while he was not acquainted with the details of the plan, he was prepared to give it his warmest commendation as a general proposition.

Many things in our modern life serve to take away our interest from the church and church services, the Rev. Pile said. "We have a number of special days already in our church, but the best of our clergy will be glad to join with the ministry of the city in making it a record day for Atlanta."

"I wish every success for the movement. I am confident that it will result in good for every church in the city."

The Rev. W. H. Hill, pastor of the West End Presbyterian Church, promised the co-operation of himself and his congregation to make "Go-to-Church Day" the biggest day in the history of the city.

"Every church and every pastor will welcome the idea of a record day in this church work. I am glad to see that the 'Go-to-Church Day' has originated in Atlanta. The Georgian may count on the glad co-operation of every Presbyterian church in the city."

Two Big Religious Bodies Indorse Idea Of Go-to-Church Day

Two religious bodies—the North Georgia Methodist Conference and the Baptist Ministerial Association of Atlanta—Monday added the weight of their approval to The Georgian's suggestion that Atlanta have a Go-to-Church Day when all of the churches of the city gather within their doors the limits of their capacity and membership.

December 14 is the date tentatively set, subject to change if the denominations yet to have a voice in naming the time wish an earlier or later date.

The Baptist ministers set for that day at once to make the day a banner one for their denomination, and leading ministers of other churches have entered so heartily into the plans that it is assured Go-to-Church Day will be a memorable one in Atlanta's religious history.

FAMILY IS SAVED FROM FLAMES BY PASSERBY

Stranger, Who Refuses to Reveal Name, Finds Residence Ablaze During Early Morning.

An unknown man who refused to give his name on the ground that he didn't want "any notoriety" saved Mrs. J. B. Hays from her home Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock when the fire in their night clothing just as the roof crashed into the bedroom where they had been sleeping.

The fire is supposed to have caught from the furnace in the basement of the house and spread rapidly. When the unknown hero passed the street on his way to work, the house was enveloped in flames. He pointed on the door and windows with his hat and tried to open a window, but was unable to release the cat. He then finally availed of Mrs. Hays' room and found the flames about at his head. He quickly availed of Mrs. Hays' and catching a blanket from the bed, they fled into the street.

The man who had been hammering on the door until his hands were ruined up to them, laughing.

"Well, I see you got out all right," he said. "I was afraid I wasn't going to get you up. I've been hammering on your door for fifteen minutes."

Mr. Hays asked the man his name, but the unknown laughing said he guessed he'd be going to work. "I wasn't anything," he said, "and I don't want any notoriety."

The fire department was called and after a half hour's hard work, the fire was extinguished. The house was badly damaged. The loss being estimated at between $1,000 and $2,000.

SPENCER, N. C., Nov. 25.—After Kate Parke had come all the way from Indianapolis with the expectation of marrying Miss Maude Taylor, she walked in the Baptist Church here and became the bride of C. R. Cates, of Spencer.

The young woman decided to marry Cates after a heated argument of the kind which, in which the Indiana man and his Spencer rival made strong appeals for her hand. Cates won. Then Parke submitted gracefully and acted as best man at the wedding.

Atlanta Autoists To Fight Proposed Gasoline Advance

Tuesday morning gasoline dealers in Atlanta were reading circular letters printed the day before by J. N. Gwin, manager of the Johnson-Gwin Company, urging on operation in a battle for the price of gasoline at 16 cents a gallon, in the face of a threatened advance of 3 cents.

"I want all the dealers in Atlanta to go in this war and fight in concert against the prospective advance. If we can't handle the situation, we will appeal to the Government for proper regulation, which would save the American people millions of dollars annually."

Atlanta motorists use more than 25,000 gallons of gasoline a day," said Mr. Gwin, "and the advance would mean an additional tax of more than a thousand dollars a day on the motorists of this city. In fact $12,750 a year."

Women for Judges And Clerks at Polls

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—County Judge J. H. Slaton has issued an order that each of the 1400 polling places in the city shall be represented by one or more women judge or election clerk at all elections hereafter.

The new suffrage law of this state does not provide for the appointment of women to serve at the polls, and Judge Slaton, "but I think that nevertheless is an oversight."

PISTOL VOLLEYS WAKE PEACHTREE

Chauffeur Held as Man Who Fired Early Morning Fusillade at Policeman.

Julius Fagan, a negro chauffeur, was arrested Tuesday morning at the house of Milton Dargatz, No. 18 Peachtree Delon Avenue, and is held at headquarters on suspicion of being the negro who disturbed the aristocratic quiet of Peachtree and Seventeenth streets late Monday night with a volley of pistol shots, most of them directed at policeman J. E. McDermott.

Fagan denies any connection with the shooting. He says he has been employed as chauffeur for Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, of Peachtree, and Fifth streets, for the last two weeks, and that he went to Mr. Dargatz's house Tuesday morning to enter his entry. He claimed he formerly worked for Mr. Dargatz. Fagan denies that he was in the vicinity of Peachtree and Seventeenth streets Monday night.

The shooting aroused great excitement and half a dozen telephone calls were made to police headquarters from residents of the neighborhood, who were shooting up the town. Policeman McDermott, the guardian of that section, was attracted by the shots and found a negro standing in the middle of the street firing his revolver joyously and enthusiastically in the air. McDermott yelled to him to stop, and the negro turned his gun on the officer and began firing. McDermott returned the fire, and the negro ran down Seventeenth street, firing at him.

Hair Grew 4 Inches In a Few Weeks

A St. Louis Lady Increased the Length of Her Hair Four or Five Inches in a Few Weeks Without the Use of Home Remedies.

A well-known St. Louis lady, after using a simple recipe on her hair, which she moved at home, made the following statement: "Without exaggeration, my hair has grown four or five inches. The recipe she used is as follows, and any lady or gentleman can make it at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a teaspoonful of castor oil, a teaspoonful of 1-4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp with the tips of the fingers. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. These ingredients can be obtained from any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."

$500 IS RAISED BY 'OLD MAID' SHOW

Educational Association's Benefit for Mineral Bluff School Is Crowned With Success.

Five hundred dollars was ready for remittance to the Southern Mountain Educational Association Tuesday morning as the proceeds from a happy presentation by Atlanta women at the Atlanta Theatre of that perennial favorite, "The Old Maid" Convention.

Almost the same cast that presented the famous piece here eight years ago took the roles Monday night, and its success was assured from the start.

The money is to be devoted to the support of the Mineral Bluff School of the association. The large sum realized was the result of a crowded house, following weeks of earnest work by the actors and the promoters. Mrs. Georgia Duncan Browder deserves a double portion of the credit for she directed the performance and as Samantha Billings, gave a very happy interpretation of the loquacious character.

The two orchestras played between the acts, and its excellent music added greatly to the occasion.

It was evident that actor and old maid trunks had been loaded on for the costumes, and it was truly remarkable how well modern beauty appeared in the now quaint and old-fashioned style that reached far back to the days before the war.

SURE WAY TO END RHEUMATISM

Easy Stiff, Stiff Joints and Muscles Make Pains and Backache Promptly Vanish.

Most all rheumatism is due to one cause—acid blood. It is the result of an impure blood, and it is the only way to get rid of it.

Dr. J. C. Sanders, of the Cumberland Sanitarium, has a special method of treating rheumatism. It is a simple, easy, and effective method.

Balmy Thanksgiving Day Is Promised by Weather Forecaster

Unless Mr. Weather Director C. F. VanHorn is greatly mistaken, Atlanta is to have a mild, bright, pleasant and altogether happy and satisfactory Thanksgiving Day next Thursday.

Working having an almost record-breaking November, Mr. VanHorn said Tuesday morning. "I think in the matter of mid-November. For the last ten days the average temperature has been ten degrees above the normal. Saturday the mercury climbed as high as 72 degrees, and 75 this morning was the lowest it has been in two weeks. That would be called a cold snap, either."

But it is warming up again. There will be a cold snap on the way this morning. No important disturbances, either, and no prospect of rain for Atlanta as far ahead as we can see. It is raining a little in Texas today, but there is practically no chance for the storm to get over this way.

THOS. B. FELDER DENIES THREAT TO TAFT

Declares J. Ham Lewis Had No Part in Securing Pardon for Morse.

Stories of how Attorney Thomas B. Felder of Atlanta, and Senator J. Ham Lewis of Illinois, as attorneys for Charles W. Morse, intimates William H. Taft while President into granting Morse a pardon from the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, as published in New York papers, were branded as "hoax" by Mr. Felder Tuesday.

The item specifically referred to by Mr. Felder was in Town Topics, which was, in part, as follows:

We all know the diplomatic snail of J. Ham Lewis, which when he and Felder interviewed the President was employed but to no purpose. Then Thomas B. Felder, who is the real story of Morse's pardon and the men implicated in it, came out of the shadows.

Mr. Felder denied absolutely any part in the securing of the pardon for Morse in a New York paper the other day, said Mr. Felder. "His statement was true. I did not say anything in Mr. Taft's case that could be interpreted as a threat. Most of my interviews were with Attorney General Wickham."

He did not say that I had a list of fully 100 big bankers in New York who were guilty of kidnapping. He is guilty of false entries on his books for which Morse was sent to prison, and that they had not even been repaid."

Warning of Chief Saves Firemen as Burning Roof Falls

Several firemen narrowly escaped being burned beneath burning timbers shortly after noon when the roof of a warehouse on which they were standing collapsed.

The warehouse, located on 15th street, between Peachtree and 16th streets, was a large building used for the storage of lumber. The roof was made of heavy timbers, which had been weakened by fire.

The fire started in the morning and spread rapidly. The firemen were working to contain the fire, but the roof suddenly gave way, sending a large mass of burning timbers crashing down.

The firemen were quickly warned of the danger and were able to escape without injury. The building was completely destroyed, and the surrounding area was covered in flames.

The fire was caused by a faulty wiring system in the building. The firemen were able to contain the fire for several hours, but the damage was too great.

The "Celestine" Glove at 86c Has Won Many Friends

We told the story of this remarkable glove just last Friday, how it took us eight months to make true the statement that the "Celestine" at 86c was another "best glove at its price." Since then we have, seemingly, proven the fact to many women.

The "Celestine" is filling a need—a worthy glove at a lower price. It is a schwaschen kid, with Paris point stitching, as slightly and as neatly finished as the average glove at twice its price.

Two clasps, all sizes from 5½ to 7½. Choose from black, white, tan, slate with self-stitching and black with white stitching.

And these are the other gloves that, at their prices, we believe are the best investment a woman can make.

The Solitaire at $1.00—the finest glove we have ever seen for $1.00. 2-clasp. Paris-point stitching.

The Colbert, $1.25—a heavy cap glove. 1-clasp. In tan, slate, black and white; fine for shopping.

A Mocha Glove at $1.25—very serviceable and full of wear. 1-clasp. Gray and tan.

The Navarre at $1.50—a soft, genuine kid skin. 2-clasp. In black, white and slate.

The Trefousse Kid at $2.00—2-clasp. Superb, "five" kid skin, colored and black with white stitching.

The Trefousse Glove Kid at $2.00—2-clasp. In tan, slate, black and white with white stitching.

Mocha Gantlet Glove, $2.00—gray or tan, very soft.

Trefousse 12-button Glove, $3.00—of fine French kid; black, white, cream or tan.

Net collars and sets; embroidered, some very richly; 50c to $3.50.

Ruffings, net, chiffon and crepe de chine dainty white, cream, coral, black and colors many widths; 25c to $1.50.

Crepe de chine ties and boxes, in colors most sought this season; 50c.

BRICKLEY WOULD GIVE HARVARD AN EDGE ON CHICAGO

By Frank G. Menke.

CHICAGO, like Harvard, went through the season without defeat. It rolled up big scores on the early teams that it engaged in practice games," and then obliterated Minnesota, its rival for the championship honors. It followed this feat with a final victory of the year over Wisconsin, 19 to 0, although the Wisconsin college sent a powerful aggregation into the field.

Harvard engaged in nine combats during the season, and won them all. It rolled up 225 points against 21 for its opponents.

Football have seen both teams in the little way that, outside the full-back position, the teams stack up in sheer ability. Pierce, the Chicago fullback, is one of the great players in the game, never giving up and he does not compare with regarded by everyone who watches as the peer of any full-back in the game's history.

On the other side, the Chicago line is a wonderful pair. They are the open-field running and carved times and times again. The Chicago line seem to be superior to Braden, the Harvard back, but they are looked upon as the equal of the Harvard chain lightning halfbacks.

Back of Chicago, and Logan, of Harvard, the rival quarterbacks, both of them wonderful leadership, and both of them the directed main of the greatest plays that resulted in glory for their teams.

Howard and O'Brien, the Harborside, are being chosen by Eastern critics as candidates for all-American team. Huntington is the center of Chicago's sports and distinction by the West. Evans, Shull and Goettler, the Harborside, made a wonderful showing in the season. Evans and Captain Storer, of Harborside, Storer stands out as superior to the Chicago men, but Evans' skills made him a star player during the year. He did not, despite his great playing. Sanders and Harris, the Chicago center and forward, and Gilman, the forward, are about the best of the Chicago center, however, Sanders both Trumbull and Soucy, the Harborside, made a fine showing, and made a fine choice on an all-American

By "Chick" Evans.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—British golf publications are simply screaming with pictures and accounts of George Duncan's victorious season. One magazine has called him "the man of the year," for, after a bad start in the British open, he has gone from one victory to another, giving joy to the heart of Scotland and earned a reputation as one of the great triumvirate. It is true that Duncan's play fell off in the Belgian championship, for he finished fifth and lost his title, but he merely exchanged it for the French open, which

"Johnny Kilbane was the world Johnny thinks so, and perhaps Evans is a bit too modest to admit it," says the umpire. "It is only adding to me by a close friend of Kilbane and substantiated in every way by the close friendship between the umpire and fighter."

JOHN PATRICK KILBANE was a young man from Cleveland, Ohio, who was a very intelligent, sprightly and clever person in all that pertains to ring matters, but he didn't mind boxing. He was training for the first two years or so of his career, excepting as a ready opponent for his namesake, Tommy, who was a boxer. He was in all this decided the championship of the Kilbane family all right, but it didn't furnish more than a boy's amusement and a fight fan's

Prep League Teams Clash on Gridiron Thursday Morning

Boys' High and Tech High tie up in the final game, and also the deciding game, of the Prep League Thursday

Boys' High has lost only one game so far this season, and that was against Riverside in the early part of the season.

Boys' High defeated Stone Mountain and Donald Fraser by the large score of 52 to 0, while Tech High defeated the former 32 to 0 and the latter 27 to 0. Both teams defeated Georgia Military Academy 6 to 0. According to the above comparison, Boys' High should be the favorites, but it must be remembered that Tech High defeated Riverside and Locust Grove, two of the strongest prep teams in the State.

"FOLLOW ME"

"I am the good shepherd:
the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling fleeth."

—John 10:11-12.

Miss Edith Appleyard died Monday. She was once matron at Agnes Scott College. Christ touched her heart. She wished to serve. She said:

"Send me to any place—only put me where I can reach and help the nethermost."

Chief Beavers closed Atlanta's houses of shame. Help was offered the fallen; Belle Sommers was saved; she gave money to found a home for them.

Miss Appleyard came to give her life. She left Agnes Scott College.

She became matron of Martha's Home. She went into the hells of earth to save her sisters.

She lived with them. God alone knew the strain.

For few helped. Many hindered.

Christian people, not understanding, tried to close this refuge for the hopeless. The Police Board classified it as a nuisance. A great paper termed it "a disorderly house."

Miss Appleyard never complained.

Without rest, without ceasing, day in, day out, she served.

She found only happiness in the work.

She was saving the lost.

She was bringing order out of chaos.

The way was becoming clear.

But self had been forgotten; sickness came.

Years ago a man had sinned.

A woman was infected.

No one knows how many lives have suffered for their shame—innocent lives have been sacrificed for their sin.

A girl came to Martha's Home.

She brought their curse.

A man had put it upon her.

It found the lips of Miss Appleyard, who by love was trying to bring the girl back to life.

Miss Appleyard is dead.

Science fought for her life.

Men and women prayed that she might stay.

But God called. He had work elsewhere for her.

With Paul she realized that it is better far to be away and with Jesus.

For weeks—months, unable to use her tongue, she has written her thoughts. Each note has radiated joy and hope, although she knew that death was daily drawing near.

Asked if she had a message to send the students of Agnes Scott, she wrote:

"I do thank my Savior that He has permitted me just a glimpse of this His great work and I hope that it may be their work too."

To the girls of the Martha Berry School she sent this word:

"I have no message but this, that they may realize their wonderful opportunity before they are gone."

Their work—their wonderful opportunity.

Our work—our wonderful opportunity.

Your work—your wonderful opportunity—before you are gone.

Her last conscious expression was a note to this Committee. She said:

"All the Executive Committee—My love. Tell them how grateful I am to have been counted worthy to share in the great work. May God overrule all mistakes."

"His great work."

Jesus said:

"Feed my lambs. . . . Tend my sheep. . . . Follow Me."

"I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling fleeth."

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me."

"Whosoever doth not bear his own cross . . . can not be my disciple."

Miss Appleyard has shown again the only way "a new and living way," the cross of Christ.

God grant you and we may take it up to-day and follow Him.

No word of sorrow should be heard.

This Thanksgiving Day let us go up to God's place of prayer.

And there, in the house of our Father, we will give thanks for her life.

But most of all, for her triumphant death.

God lead us in the way that she has shown.

3 Victims of Fall
Off Healey Building
Ready to Go to Work

The three men who fell five stories from the Healey Building on account of the collapse of a scaffold marveled
Tuesday at the fact that they were so little injured they were almost ready to go back to work.

W. H. Harris, a carpenter of No.
122 Nile street, was only slightly bruised about the head and shoulders.
S. A. Newman, of No. 28 Boulevard, was injured only by slight bruises about the hips. Marvin Taylor, a cotton beller, had a splinter stick through his teeth.

The scaffold was across the elevator shaft and is thought to have collapsed because the weight of the three men on it was too great. The accident occurred Monday afternoon.

Gassy Stomachs in Five Minutes—Time It!

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an un-want a sure, quick, and reliable remedy.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief to the most distressing cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, flatulence, and other stomach troubles.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if any one should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and causes gas and flatu-lence, headache, dizziness and nausea, eructations of acid and indigestion, keep Pape's Diapiesin in contact with the stomach as such distresses vanish.

Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it. Advise.

Weak Lungs Often

If you have weak lungs, you are generally subject to colds or throat trouble and easily suffering from Lung Trouble. In many cases the lungs are so weak that they are unable to resist the attack of the disease. The lungs are the most important organs of the body and if they are weak, the whole system is affected. It is a mistake to think that a cold or throat trouble is nothing more than a passing ailment. It may be the beginning of a serious illness.
If you have weak lungs, you should take prompt action to strengthen them.
The best way to do this is by using a reliable remedy. The best remedy for

CONGRESSIONAL PROBE OF BEEF TRUST LIKELY

May's Purchase of Argentine
Meat at Lower Price Than U. S.
Product Stirs Lawmakers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—A Congressional investigation of the beef meat is promised during the coming session of Congress, which will begin on Monday.

This action was proposed by Representative Britton, of Illinois, and kindred, of New Jersey, following the announcement by Secretary of the Navy Daniels that the Navy department was able to purchase Argentine beef at a price lower than that quoted by American packers.

Both members of Congress will introduce resolutions demanding that the Judiciary Committee, when it begins its investigation, next month, look into the navy beef matter. The resolution will not criticize the navy department for accepting the lower bid, but the Judiciary Committee will be asked to pay particular attention to the beef trust.

The supply ship Calico, which sails from New York tonight for Vera Cruz, Mexico, will carry 250,000 pounds of Argentine beef.

Witnesses declared that Keith had authorized Blount to sign his name to bonds. However, the negro denied that such authority had been given in this instance.

REAL "VARIETY" BILL PLEASES AT FORSYTH

Francis Dooley and Corinne Sales
Lead Funmakers at Vaudeville House.

By TARLETON COLLIER.

Their names, which they called our vaudeville shows "variety" and when they essayed a little bit of everything in a single bill of the two-day.

It was a recrudescence of those days of orthodox, well-balanced shows that greeted the crowd at the Forsyth Theater Monday.

The bill offers as much variety of entertainment as could be conceived and most of it the light, really funny entertainment that vaudeville patrons come to demand.

For a consideration of the show, it is best perhaps to begin with Francis Dooley and Corinne Sales, old acquaintances of Atlanta. Although not billed on the boards as a singing and dancing duo, they are a singing and dancing duo, and they are a singing and dancing duo.

ETAMPES, FRANCE, Nov. 25.—The most remarkable escape from death yet recorded in the annals of aviation occurred here today when the motor in the aeroplane of Aviator Host suddenly balked with the machine was 1,500 feet in the air.

The aeroplane plunged earthward with terrific speed, turning over and over in the air. In spite of the alarming rapidity of the drop and the whirling revolutions Host, who was strapped to his seat, retained self-control.

After "soaring the loop" twenty times the aviator got the aeroplane under control and volplaned the balance of the distance to safety. Host was trying for an altitude record.

What One User Says About the Burroughs Duplex

One user of a Duplex Bookkeeping Machine says:

"The fact that you are able to do double column work, carrying the totals of each different column in the machine until the work is finished and then have the grand total of all figures added, in our minds is the greatest feature of this machine."

It is wonderful—and what this Duplex accomplishes, what it cuts off the cost of handling figures because of its two-in-one operations, is making it the most popular machine in the big Burroughs Line.

You ought to at least try a Duplex on your own work—no cost or obligation.

A naval officer I know canceled a lot of his engagements last week in order to devote the time to his dentist.

"I am going on a long cruise," he said, "and I know the value of good teeth. Good teeth mean good health and a long life."

In the army and navy, and in all great industrial spheres the value of good teeth is being recognized. Statistics prove that sound, clean teeth, preserve health and promote business efficiency.

The three-year visit to the dentist and the time-advancing of the efficient Ribbon Dental Cream, the efficient, deliciously flavored dentifrice, insure sound teeth, better health and better looks.

FAMILY IS SAVED FROM FLAMES BY PASSERBY

Stranger, Who Refuses to Reveal Name, Finds Residence Ablaze During Early Morning.

An unknown man who refused to give his name on the ground that he did not want "any publicity" saved Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hand from death Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when their home at No. 118 Capitol avenue was destroyed by fire. They had just been to their night dressing room when the fire broke out in the bedroom where they had been sleeping.

The fire is supposed to have caught from the furnace in the basement of the house and spread rapidly. When the unknown man passed the street on his way to work, he noticed the smoke and tried to open a window. He was unable to release the catch. The persistent hammering on the doors and the smoke and fire of the flames finally awoke Mr. Hand, who found the flames about the head of the bed. He quickly awoke Mrs. Hand and, catching a blanket, ran to the door. He saw the fire in the street.

The man who had been hammering on the door until his hands bled called up to them. "I won't get in to get you up. You have been sleeping in your bed for three months. Mr. Hand asked the man his name, but the unknown man refused to give it. He said he was going to work. "I won't get in," he said, "and I won't say any more."

The fire department was called after a half hour. The fire was quickly extinguished. The house was badly damaged, the loss being estimated at between $1,000 and $2,000.

Atlanta Autoists To Fight Proposed Gasoline Advance

Tuesday morning gasoline dealers in Atlanta were sending circular letters to the city fathers, asking them to oppose the proposed advance. If we pass the bill, the situation will be a disaster, which would mean the end of the city of Atlanta.

"Atlanta motorists use more than 55,000 gallons of gasoline a day," said Mr. Dargan, "and the advance would mean an additional tax of more than a thousand dollars a day on the motorists of this city—over $175,000 a year."

"I want all the dealers in Atlanta to get in this war and fight to support the proposed advance. If we pass the bill, the situation will be a disaster, which would mean the end of the city of Atlanta."

PISTOL VOLLEYS WAKE PEACHTREE

Chauffeur Held as Man Who Fired Early Morning Fusillade at Policeman.

John Peagan, a negro chauffeur was arrested Tuesday morning at the home of Milton Dargan, No. 44 Ponce DeLeon avenue, and is held at headquarters on suspicion of being the negro who disturbed the artistic quiet of Peachtree and Seventeenth streets late Monday night with a volley of pistol shots, most of them directed at Policeman J. E. McDaniel.

Peagan denies any connection with the shooting. He says he has been employed as chauffeur for Mrs. A. W. Dargan for several years.

The shooting aroused great excitement and half a dozen telephone calls came into police headquarters from the vicinity of the neighborhood, where a regiment of negroes were shooting up the town. Policeman McDaniel, the guardian of that section, was called by the shots and found a negro standing in the middle of the street, firing a revolver. The negro, who was wearing a dark coat and a hat, was seen to be firing a revolver. The police followed him and he was arrested.

The policeman followed, shooting, but the negro, who kept on firing, however, and Tuesday morning he was found in the Peachtree home.

$500 IS RAISED BY 'OLD MAID' SHOW

Educational Association's Benefit for Mineral Bluff School Is Crowned With Success.

Five hundred dollars was ready for remittance to the Southern Mountain Educational Association Tuesday morning as the proceeds from a happy presentation by Atlanta women at the Atlanta Theater of that perennial favorite, "The Old Maid's Convention."

Almost the same cast that presented the famous piece here eight years ago told the story Monday night, and its success was assured from the start.

The money is to be devoted to the support of the Mineral Bluff School of the association. The large sum realized was the result of a crowded house, following weeks of earnest work by the actors and the promoters.

Mrs. George Duncan Browder deserves a double portion of the credit for she directed the performance, and as Samatha Billings, gave a very happy interpretation of the loquacious character.

The Tech Orchestra played between the acts, and its excellent music added greatly to the occasion.

It was evident that critics and old friends had been lured on for the costumes, and it was truly remarkable how well modern beauty appeared in the now quaint and old-fashioned style that reached far back to the days before the war.
